

Il Mercato del Duomo: manifesto

In the heart of Milan, the new free and open space for everyone wishing to rediscover and experience the values and genuine flavours of the territory and its producers.

An old building that has always been an emblem of food culture and catering. Discovery, knowledge and awareness of food and its production are the essence of the vertical pathway that visitors will enjoy.

From the selection of the most genuine and sought after raw materials via the national experience of street food to the excellences of Italian catering.

A welcoming place, open to all, where tradition works with innovation. An experience of sharing, exchange and integration in Milan's most important square, symbol of Italian catering worldwide and of the city's international spirit.
