Milan, 4th October 2011 – Through its American subsidiary HMSHost, Autogrill Group (Milan: AGL IM) has renewed in advance its food & beverage concession at Las Vegas International Airport for a further ten years. The extension brings the original contract, running till 2018, to 2028, with estimated total revenues of over $2.5 billion in the period from 2012 to 2028.

The Company will operate a total of 45 points of sale at the airport, of which seven will be new locations in Terminal 3 in addition to HMSHost's existing restaurants in Terminal 1, which are to be renovated in terms of brands and menu offerings.

The new locations reflect Las Vegas's "global" population with a mix of international and local food labels, from Pei Wei Asian Diner, featuring Asian specialities, to La Tapenade Mediterranean Café, a restaurant offering traditional Mediterranean cuisine, to Vegas ChopHouse, a fine food restaurant specializing in meat and fish, to Dewar's Bar, a golf-oriented American bar and distillery, as well as Starbucks Coffee and Burger King. These restaurants will be added to the existing brands, including Wolfgang Puck Express, the gourmet chain inspired by the renowned American chef, Chili's Tool!, a quick service offering Mexican cuisine, and The Great American Bagel, a sandwich shop & bakery.

Las Vegas McCarran International is the 8th biggest airport in the United States (40 million passengers in 2010). 2012 will see the opening of the new Terminal 3 to replace the current Terminal 2, which handles most of the international and charter flights. The airport is served by over 30 airlines, including Southwest, Delta, Continental Airlines, United, US Airways, British Airways, Virgin and Air Canada, connecting to over 140 national and international destinations.

The main city in the State of Nevada, the metropolitan area of Las Vegas has over 2 million inhabitants. In 2010, over 37 million tourists visited the "entertainment capital of the world" (source: Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority).
